The museum houses permanent and temporary exhibition spaces. Each room within the Harbour Master's Residence has a different theme, exploring Devonport's local history or the maritime history of the Bass Strait. We hold the only builder's models of the Empress of Australia and the Princess of Tasmania. Did you know Devonport's cement and limestone industry contributed to the construction of the Sydney Harbour Bridge? Or, that the first steam car in the southern hemisphere was built in Devonport? Many more stories and interactive displays are to be found within.

Located at the paranaple arts centre the Devonport Regional Gallery features three distinct galleries, a creative space with changing activities, and a foyer space large enough for local community exhibitions. The Gallery presents a diverse program of contemporary art with a focus on Tasmanian artists. The program is informed by the Gallery's Permanent Collection of contemporary Tasmanian art; the Gallery's Robinson Collection of historic negatives; innovative group and solo exhibitions; state-wide touring content; and national touring exhibitions.

NATIONAL TRUST Home Hill

1916 family home and gardens of an Australian Prime Minster

Take a look inside the family home of Australia's 10th Prime Minister, Joseph Lyons, his wife Dame Enid Lyons, and their 12 children. Containing a rich collection of personal material, Home Hill provides an unexpected insight into family life, Australian politics and international relations during the momentous events of the mid-twentieth
